Notice to all Persons having Demands on the Government.
PENSIONS, BOUNTY, PRIZE-MONEY, PATENTS, Pay for Vouchers, Scrip, Back Pay, Lost Horse and Spoliation Claims obtained by the undersigned, who will attend to all other business before the Departments at Washington City.
Soldiers becoming disabled or diseased while in the service, are entitled to a Pension. Those who served in any war previous to the 3d of March, 1855, are entitled to Bounty Land. Those who served in the Navy during the late war, and were legally attached to a vessel or squadron on duty, although not participating in the taking of prizes, are entitled to Prize Money. In many Indian Treaties provision is made for payment of Spoliation Claims out of Annuities. To collect the large number of such claims now owned in this country,—for the settlement of which no similar provision has been made by treaty—demand should be made at once therefor at the proper Department, and, if found just, recommendation will be made to Congress to pass an act retaining the amount thereof out of the Annuities.

General Butler delivered an address at the Soldiers and Sailors' National Convention in Washington on the 23d ult., in which he spoke as follows of General Lee, Jeff. Davis, and the loyal Southerners:

ROBERT E. LEE.

* * * I have given you, my friends, feebly, the sketch of a true American soldier. Let me give you another sketch. There was once a soldier of the country, bearing one of its proudest names, intermarrying into a family which the country delighted to honor; who had received from a country, grateful for the deeds of its ancestors, the highest education it could afford to give; who had been the petted soldier of the country, beloved by his Commander-in-Chief, almost the staff of his old age. When disorder and civil commotions and rebellion broke out, the old Chief leaned upon the younger soldier as upon his staff—made him the confidant of his secrets and the depository of his plans. But suddenly that soldier departed from the ranks of his country's service, and within two days of the time when his resignation was accepted was found fighting in the ranks of the enemy, and in a higher command. During a long and bloody war he saw his former fellow officers and soldiers starved in prison under his very eye—saw that from very desperation they burrowed out through the ground—and never raised a voice in their behalf, although his word was omnipotent, and although the enemy depended wholly on his word. He saw the officers and soldiers of the country that reared and honored him murdered by thousands in the prisons, and never said a word in their behalf. At last, after every means of resistance had failed; after having carried on a war which he knew to be hopeless, and after having fought his army until he diminished it to 7,200 muskets, he surrendered at last, after writing a note to the commander of the opposite army, stating that "frankly" he did not consider that the time of surrender had come. That man is now a teacher of the youth of the country, to tell them their duty to their flag, their country and their God. If this is to be so, fellow soldiers, have we not shed our blood in vain, and are not our lost comrades simply murdered, uselessly murdered, without hope in this world, and only with hope in the resurrection?

What is the plea to be interposed in favor of this man? The right of secession—that he went with his State? But suppose that that plea is a false one, what shall we say then? Robert E. Lee resigned his commission on the 19th of April, 1861, at the same time that our neighbors were murdered in Baltimore. On the 17th day of the same April Virginia had passed an ordinance of secession, which was not to take effect until voted on by the people on the third Tuesday of May, five weeks afterward. On the 19th of April, I say, General Lee resigned his commission, or rather it was accepted on that day, after it had been through the various offices of the Department in Washington, and on the 22d of April he was appointed Commander-in-Chief of the rebel forces in Virginia. His State had not then seceded, but, on the contrary, he, at the point of the bayonet, carried her out of the Union and forced the vote on the third Tuesday of May following. And yet there has not been strength enough in this Government so far—a Government that could put a million men in the field at once, and that did in the last campaign put into the field one million six hundred thousand men—to bring that man to trial and ascertain whether or not treason is a crime and ought to be punished. [Applause.]

I have not yet spoken of another and greater—no, another and different—criminal. I am now speaking of a man who I think can be, within the spirit of your resolution, tried by a military commission, and to which all the people will say amen. I put it to you, fellow-soldiers, as military men, whether deserting the flag of our nation and taking service within two days afterward in the ranks of the enemy is not a military crime for which a man is amenable to a military tribunal? I think there can be no doubt upon that question. I would like to see him tried for that military offense. I do not think that any subsequent parole, got out of too much credulity that the time had not come to surrender the Northern Army of Virginia, would be a good plea. I desire to see that man tried so that it may be understood hereafter that it is death upon the gallows for any man to desert his flag and take service with the enemies of his country. [Great applause.]

JEFFERSON DAVIS.

Turn we to another man, for whom there are other considerations of excuse—to Jefferson Davis, educated in the like school (unfortunate, perhaps, for the school that it should have two such pupils)—who went into the military service of his country, where he behaved honorably and well. I do not know but that I might have to apply to him the saying of a rough Whig to Arnold, in the days of the Revolution. Arnold asked him what would be done to him if he was caught by the Americans. "Why," said the Whig, "I think we should bury the leg that was wounded at Quebec with all the honors of war, and hang the rest of you on a jibbet." So with Davis. We might have to bury, with the honors of war, one arm that was wounded in Mexico, and hang the rest of him. [Laughter and applause.] He had the plea, however, which the soldier had not—that his State had seceded.

Waiting until Mississippi went out, Jefferson Davis quits the halls of Congress to take the office of Provisional President in the Confederate States—an office created and made ready for him as soon as he should be ready to take it. He, all-powerful in the Confederacy, with a will of iron, with prayers and proclamations to the Divine mercy on his lips, stands by and sees our comrades starved and murdered day by day. I think it is of no great consequence whether it can be proved or not that he directly ordered it. Certain it is that it could not have been done if he did not wish it. He saw the horrors of Andersonville and does nothing to prevent them. Whether or not he has any complicity in the last great act of infamous guilt, the murder of the President, no man may yet know. But whether he had or not, I desire to see him tried by a Military Commission, as the tribunal which arose out of the power he evoked for the purpose of severing the Union. I should like to see the crime of the civil magistrate who deserts his post and levies war against his country not only made odious but punished on the gallows, so that no Representative or Senator shall hereafter in these halls plot treason and execute it outside. After that will be a time to pause and see what is best to be done next.

LOYAL SOUTHERNERS.

Mr. President, I believe I have spoken to every portion of your resolutions that struck my ear, and given you thus curiously and discursively my views upon it. But there is one topic upon which I think they do not treat, and which yet deserves mention. It is the question of what shall be done for that class of our fellow-soldiers who lived in the Confederate States. I do not refer now to the colored men, but to those true men who, against every inducement and intimidation, stood up nobly for the old flag. Do you not think that such noble and stern men are entitled to your consideration? And would you not, if they were here in numbers, give them a special resolution?

What would you say to the North Carolinian, the Tennesseean, the Kentuckian, the Missourian, the Alabamian, aye, and the Louisianian, who stood by the old flag? They got no bounties for joining the armies of the United States. On the contrary, there was everything to deter them from doing so. They joined the army on the certainty that they stood on a par with him who addresses you—that we were all to be hung at sight, if caught. [Laughter.] Many of them saw their comrades executed.

Let me state here what actually took place in the Department of North Carolina. A regiment of North Carolinians enlisted, and a portion of the regiment was captured at Plymouth. Twenty-two of that regiment were tried and hanged by order of General Pickett, a former officer of the United States army, simply because they were loyal to the flag and country which gave them birth. And what do you think was the answer of General Pickett to the officer who demanded an explanation, and wrote to him that retaliation might be taken on officers of the Confederacy? The answer was: "If the officers on whom you retaliate are those who have deserted from the United States service, I think you would do right to hang them." We happened to have in our hands no such officers at that moment, but I thought the suggestion an exceedingly good one, coming from Pickett, who had himself deserted the service of the United States and gone into the service of the Confederacy. I think that letter of General Pickett is eminently suggestive of what is our duty.

As to those true men of the South, I think they are worthy of a separate resolution. Even if some of you do not agree with me in the idea of distributing some Southern land among Northern soldiers, surely no person can stand up and argue against the proposition to distribute a few acres of the lands of the South among those loyal friends who fought for them and fought for us. If you would take in a few black men in the same way it would not hurt the argument any, in my opinion. But I am now speaking for my white brethren of the South—men for whom I have the highest respect, who were faithful among the faithless found, and with whom I have perhaps something of a fellow-feeling—caused by a circumstance to which I have just now alluded.

I pray you excuse me, fellow-soldiers, if I show a little of this fellow-feeling for them in suggesting that the lands of their rebel neighbors, who overawed them, hunted them down, shot their comrades and hung all of them that they could catch, should be at least divided among them as a compensation for the losses they suffered in standing by the Union, so that hereafter every man in the country may know that if he stands by the flag it will protect him and will sooner or later reward him for his devotion.

THE MERCER EMIGRATION SCHEME.—Many of the parties who went to New York expecting to sail for Washington Territory in Mr. Mercer's emigration steamer were finally disappointed after waiting for months for the steamer to sail. Some failed to get on board on the day of sailing, while fifteen others were landed on Staten Island, because Mercer had not paid for their passage. The New York correspondent of the Springfield Republican, who was visited by a party of the disappointed ones, makes the following discreditable revelation:

These disconsolate and forlorn persons—of whom I regret to say there were several from Western Massachusetts, and if I mistake not, one from Springfield, (though the majority were from Maine, including one entire family of six from Machias,)—were certainly placed in a very undesirable position. Their baggage, or at any rate a very considerable part of it, had gone with the steamer; they had spent their money, having in the first place sold out at home to raise the funds to go with; and here they were, stranded, high and dry on a rugged shore. The members of the party concurred in stating that the baggage of at least twenty-five persons or families had been taken away, while the owners of the same had been left behind; that one family in Jersey City had paid Mr. Mercer $600 and put their goods on board, and lost both money and goods; and finally that on endeavoring to find that gentleman previous to being sent ashore on the eventful morning referred to, he was nowhere to be discovered, until, after diligent search and exploration in every other part of the vessel, an enterprising stoker eliminated him from one of the coal bunkers in a state of extreme tarnish and smut, and with a "general cussedness" of aspect incident to the fact of his having incarcerated himself for a considerable time in highly uncongenial quarters, as well as to the great moral delinquency of which he was, on this showing, to be guilty. To say, therefore, on this evidence, that the expedition was a failure, would be a very mild drawing; and probably my readers will be very apt to agree with me in pronouncing the entire scheme a colossal fraud.

ANECDOTE OF MR. LINCOLN.—A correspondent of the Independent tells this little story of the late President:

It is not generally known that the speech always made by the President upon the presentation of a foreign minister, is carefully written for him by the Secretary of State. A clerk in the department, ignorant of this custom, was one day sent to the White House by Mr. Seward, with the speech to be delivered upon such an occasion. Mr. Lincoln was writing at his desk when the clerk entered, a half-dozen Senators and Representatives occupying the sofas and chairs. Unable to disguise a feeling of delicacy in the discharge of such an errand, the young man approached, and in a low tone said to the President; "The Secretary has sent the speech you are to make to-day to the Swiss Minister." Mr. Lincoln laid down his pen, and, taking the manuscript, said in a loud tone: "Oh, this is a speech Mr. Seward has written for me, is it? I guess I will try it before these gentlemen and see how it goes." Thereupon he proceeded to read it, in a waggish manner, remarking, as he concluded, with sly humor, "There, I like that, it has the merit of originality."

WEST VIRGINIA.—An earnest effort is being made in Old Virginia to induce the return of her loyal daughter, West Virginia. A measure is before the Legislature looking to that end, and it has elicited several pathetic speeches from gentlemen who long for the restored integrity of the Old Dominion. But the movement will probably be in vain. The western part of the State, as it was, suffered for years from the intense pro-slavery policy that always governed the east, and the moment the bonds were severed, it sprang to its natural position among the loyal States of the Union. During the war it furnished 31,884 troops to the Union armies, most of them three years men, and it contributed upward of $2,000,000 in bounty money. And yet the finances of the State were in a very prosperous condition, showing a large balance on the right side in the treasury, which is in decided contrast with the chronic poverty of old Virginia. Nor is there any reason on the score of size why West Virginia should not remain by herself a State in the Union; for she has a population of three hundred and fifty thousand now, and covers an area of twenty-three thousand square miles, being thus more than two times larger than Vermont or New Hampshire, five times larger than Connecticut, and three times larger than Massachusetts. Old Virginia might as well regard this movement as hopeless.

STATISTICS OF METHODISM.—In 1766 Philip Embury preached the first Methodist sermon, and arranged the first class in the city of New York. Now the church has, in the United States and Canadas, 13,650 travelling and 15,000 local preachers, and about 2,000,000 communicant members, and 1,000,000 scholars in its Sabbath schools. It controls about 30 periodical publications. The Methodist Episcopal branch alone has over 15,000 preachers and 916,000 members. Last year it had 1,000 conversions in its Sabbath schools. Its Missionary society has 1059 circuits and stations, with 1128 paid laborers and 105,000 communicants. Its Book concern has a capital of $837,000, with 500 agents, clerks, etc., and 2,000 different books on its catalogues. In New England the denomination has doubled itself every twelve years since 1796. In the four middle States the Methodists have three-fourths as many churches as the Baptists, Congregationalists, Presbyterians and Episcopalians together.

The Johnson Party—The Statesman Declares its Position

The President seems disposed to sever his connection with the great Union party, and the Oregon Statesman goes with him. So do the Review and the State Rights Democrat. In the same company we find every rebel and Copperhead from Maine to Oregon and from the Lakes to the Gulf. In close affiliation and earnest concord with the President and the party thus organizing are such choice spirits as Vallandigham, the Woods, the Seymours and all other Northern men of infamous antecedents and traitorous intent. Not less enthusiastic as members of the same company, are such rebels as A H Stephens, H. V. Johnson, R. E. Lee and hosts of others who now seize the opportunity to uplift the banner of the Confederacy, for which they once fought in vain. The Statesman has deliberately chosen its company; it has cast its lot with those with whom all the enemies of country associate. To form this "conservative party," the Copperheads of the North come hissing from the Pandemonium to which they were driven years ago by the sturdy force of indignant patriotism, and joining with the rebels who come up from the South leap exultingly over the graves of the soldiers of the Union, the new combination threatens to seize the reins of Government, to disperse a loyal Congress now the only obstacle between them and the final consummation of their hopes—and to wrest from the grasp of a devoted people the hard earned and righteous fruits of their late signal triumph. To this movement the Statesman gives its devotion. It forsakes the Union organization and invites the co-operation of the Confederacy in the work of securing the overthrow of the party which is entitled to the eternal gratitude of having preserved the Government through the most trying ordeal which any country has known.

The Statesman has found its long sought opportunity. Months ago we charged it with unfaithfulness to the Union party. We exposed its [illegible] purposes and showed whither it was drifting. Taking its own words as the ground of accusation, we convicted it of a deliberate resolve to go over to the enemy whenever the time was ripe for the movement it had in contemplation. The combination against the Union party [illegible] foreshadowed, has been effected. The [illegible] part of which it was advised beforehand has consummated. The Statesman is following the instructions of its monitor to the letter [illegible] an opportunity to speak decidedly of the party whose birth it has been predicting [illegible] has come to pronounce for the "new [illegible] organization," in which, as it told [illegible] the "conservatives" of both sections [illegible]. The "Johnson party" is born!

It is perfectly well known that the Statesman is in the interest of Senator Nesmith. It is devoted to his political fortunes and will do his bidding. He has kept his organ accurately informed as to his [illegible] and designs. He has dictated its course and advised it what position to take in the present crisis. He, with others, foreknew what was to [illegible]. The breach between a loyal Congress and [illegible] was a consummation which [illegible] "conservatives" labored long to bring [illegible]. When Senator Nesmith was in Oregon [illegible] he declared repeatedly, that what has lately taken place at Washington would surely occur. He confidently predicted that the President would not long adhere to the party which had elected him. He spoke of the formation of a new party which should be controlled wholly by the "conservatives," and in which the "Radicals," [illegible] of the country, should have no [illegible]. His organ at Salem has been waiting for [illegible] to begin. Now that the effort to [illegible] new party has commenced, it denounces [illegible] majority of the Union men of the country as [illegible] fanatics, and hastens with every [illegible] of new-born zeal, to go over to [illegible].

Yet the Statesman professes the greatest anxiety for the preservation of the Union party. That party, in its judgment, consists of Andrew Johnson and the little body of venal place-hunters whose services he can command. The Statesman thinks it nothing that Congress stands almost a unit against the Executive. It regards it as nothing that the Legislatures of all the loyal States have pronounced against his policy. Nothing that the [illegible] sentiment of the country rises up in indignation, and as with a single voice [illegible] Congress to stand firm. Nothing that the loyal press thunders its disapproval of the [illegible] he has taken. Nothing that rebels cheer and Copperheads applaud the President they hope to win over to their side. None of these things are [illegible]. Though the representatives of the Union party, and the party itself, rise up and repudiate this [illegible] policy—this scheme to throw the Government into the hands of traitors—the Statesman adheres to Andrew Johnson and insists that he is the Union party!

The Statesman makes an effort to point out the grounds of difference between the President and Congress. It not only misstates the case, but begs the whole question. Congress has not declared that the States have lapsed into a Territorial condition. Certain members may hold such a theory, but the majority in Congress does not. Congress has not taken the position that eleven States are out of the Union and must be admitted in the regularly prescribed way. It does not declare that the Southern States are to remain without representation until an act shall be passed formally admitting them into the Union. Senator Trumbull tells us that he has not found any member in either House who wishes to keep the Southern States out of Congress indefinitely. On the contrary, all unite in the desire to have these members admitted at the earliest moment consistent with the public safety. In the opinion of Congress that moment has not come. The President and the Democratic party insist on their immediate admission. And because Congress in the exercise of its undeniable right refuses to permit the President to send whom he pleases into that body, Executive thunders are hurled against the representatives of the people in the hope that intimidation may bring about the result which milder influences have failed to accomplish.

The Statesman says: The Southern States are entitled to representation in Congress whenever they send delegations of men who are loyal and who can take the Congressional oath. So says Congress and so say we. But the President attempts to compel the admission of the class whom the insurrectionary States have sent to the Capitol. This Congress refuses [illegible] hence the difference between that [illegible] and the President. Senator Sherman a man distinguished for his moderation says he is anxious to have [illegible] Southern members admitted but will never vote for the admission of any one who has favored the rebellion. Right here is where the President and the majority of Congress differ. The Statesman says Mr [illegible] has done [illegible] of his [illegible]. Yet in his veto message he insists with positive emphasis upon the admission of the delegation that is at the seat of Washington. Why should he so persistently [illegible] when the greater number of those Southern members have been made the recipients of his special pardon? It has been his uniform custom to pardon every person in the South who has been elected to office and in many instances he has pardoned them in advance with a special view to removing the barrier which stood between them and official position.

Why not admit loyal men from Southern States? Were there any such at Washington they might be admitted but with half a dozen exceptions those who compose the Southern delegation are disloyal. Part of the Tennessee delegation is said to be loyal and Congress was just on the point of admitting these members when the President by his veto took issue with that body on the whole question of reconstruction and thus interrupted the procedure which would have resulted in their admission.

It is worthy of remark however that the State of Tennessee through her Executive and Legislative lately protested against the admission of her own members if the result should be the withdrawal of the military from the State. Even that State the most loyal of the eleven now unrepresented would not be safe in the hands of her own rebellious people. Yet those who clamor for hasty restoration would invest the rebel masses of those States with powers which Tennessee the most loyal of them all is afraid to to entrust her rebel population.

The Statesman says "The Union party will not sustain the majority in Congress." Is the organ of Senator Nesmith qualified to speak for the Union party? Does the storm of indignation against the President, which has swept through every loyal State, mean that the Union party will not sustain Congress? Which of the Oregon Senators will the Union party of this State sustain? Will it stand by Williams always known to be honorable capable and trustworthy, or will it sustain Nesmith and return him to his present position? The Radicals says the Statesman (meaning the Union majority in Congress) have abandoned the Union party and the President. They have abandoned neither. They remain faithful to the Union party and the President has forsaken them. Has Senator Williams abandoned the Union part of Oregon and Senator Nesmith become its champion? Do Copperheads in Congress represent the views of the Union party and have our loyal and faithful representatives become the enemies of the Government? Would men of judgment expect to find this recreancy in thirty Senators and one hundred and twenty Representatives sooner than in a single man? On the Statesman's hypothesis President Johnson and a part of his Cabinet are the Union party; while the large Congressional majority, backed up by the whole loyal people are nothing.

The Statesman is "for Andrew Johnson against all his enemies." We are for the whole loyal party and will not sever our connection with it to go with a single person, even though that person be the one who has all the Federal offices at his disposal. Men of independent mind can have little respect for those who are dragooned into the service of the Executive through fear that they may lose favor with the appointing power. That the beneficiaries of the Government should loudly praise him from whom patronage flows, is, perhaps, not surprising but it certainly is despicable.

The Democratic party in the coming canvass will go for President Johnson. Their Convention will pronounce emphatically for him. He will be their champion. And as the Statesman sustains him against the Union party, it may find its proper associations in company with the Review and the Democrat. We are not at all surprised to find the Statesman occupying its present position. It is what we foretold long ago. But there will be no division in the Union party. The little circle of "mutual admiration" men who make the Statesman their organ may slough off if they will. The party will be far better off without them.

Letter from Walla Walla

WALLA WALLA, W T, Feb. 25, 1866

EDITOR OREGONIAN

It is sometime since 'Ajax' had the honor of addressing you from this point. A letter at this time containing sundry miscellaneous items of news about Walla Walla may be acceptable.

The killing of Ferd Patterson by one Donohue (formerly of your city) on the 15th inst has ever since formed a topic of public discussion. Donohue was brought before his honor, Justice Wm P Horton, for a preliminary hearing on Friday, the 16th. The court room was crowded with anxious spectators. On motion of Frank P Dugan Esq (Donohue's counsel) the case was postponed until the following Monday morning February 19th. On the arrival of the appointed Mo[illegible] so high did the public excitement run, that it was deemed imprudent to take up the case. Of course both parties have their special friends sympathizers etc.

Patterson's remains were interred on Friday afternoon February 16th in the public cemetery attended by a large concourse of persons, the Rev Mr Chamberlain of the First Congregational church, performing the funeral ceremonies &c.

THE WINTER

We have experienced a very severe and tedious winter in this valley but everything now looks spring like and encouraging. Our farmers are all preparing to go to farming. Wheat is worth at the mills $1 50 per bushel. Oats and barley are worth from 2 to 2½ cents per pound respectively.

THE GARRISON

Capt J F Noble still holds forth at Fort Walla Walla. During the past winter a detachment of the Oregon Cavalry (some ten men) have been on duty here.

The first stage hence to Wallula starts down this morning to meet the steamer at that point. Quite a number of our citizens leave on [illegible] for Portland, his honor Mayor Thomas Dan Welch, J Madigan George Green &c.

The lower portion of (Main street) the [illegible] destroyed by the memorable conflagration [illegible] the 21 Aug at last has been entirely rebuilt. [illegible] new stores restaurants and saloons [illegible] that spot.

Now that spring is up on us the packers are making some preparations [illegible] the line of march [illegible] early [illegible]. They propose going via the [illegible]. Mr Walter W [illegible] competent to give an opinion on the subject [illegible] that the [illegible] can be put in good order for the sum of $10 000. [illegible] the business men of Walla Walla are inactive [illegible] subject.

Files of the OREGONIAN are now being received here through your agents [illegible] and H Parker.

We hear it stated in military quarters [illegible] that one or two companies of the 14th Regiment of Infantry are soon to be ordered to garrison Fort Walla Walla. [illegible] pinger and Major Marshal are spoken of as among the officers who are likely to be ordered here. This return of the regulars will serve to call up the pleasant associations of days of yore, when the accomplished and popular officers of the army who were formerly stationed here did so much to impart a healthful and elevating tone to the social status of the Walla Walla community.

Letters were received in this city yesterday from Mr Epps Hardy a well known resident of this valley for many years [illegible] in Portland at [illegible] Hall [illegible] for the surgical [illegible] Dr [illegible] that [illegible] His friends will [illegible] everlasting [illegible].

MEETING OF THE COUNCIL [illegible] ... meeting of the Common Council [illegible] at 8 o'clock, Mayor Failing in [illegible].

The following [illegible] ... date December [illegible] ... Watkins.

The records of the previous [illegible] were [illegible] approved.

Messrs. J. H. [illegible] of March [illegible] ... McAdams along Washington street.

Mr. George [illegible] privilege [illegible] ting in a new [illegible] ... hotel on the corner [illegible] ... granted.

Street Commissioner [illegible] ... of Patrick Rawl [illegible] ... he did not [illegible] ing the same [illegible] ... removal.

On motion the matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee with instructions [illegible] torney, and report [illegible] and others [illegible].

The committee on streets and public property reported favorably to change of grade [illegible] streets to [illegible] ... Macadamized road. The report was adopted and [illegible] authorized.

The same committee reported that Messrs. [illegible] & Co. had completed the [illegible] street, in front of [illegible] ... and recommend [illegible] contract price [illegible] $1,000. [illegible] warrant authorized.

Surveyor Burrage submitted a report on sewerage [illegible] ... placed this important [illegible] before the Council [illegible] very practicable and [illegible] ... lish the report, with his remarks ... [illegible] — Reporter.]

On motion to place the report on file

Mr. Watkins said he felt a deep interest in the subject of city sewerage. He felt that we should never have [illegible] city without sewerage. [illegible] ... was owing to the absence of the location itself. His own [illegible] ... thought every physician in the city [illegible] ... that after the rainy season last fall, while the fine weather, there was an extraordinary amount of sickness. Nearly every physician in the city had more than he could readily attend to, but when wet weather came on business fell off astonishingly, and the fact could be traced directly to the accumulation of filth which becomes stagnant in pleasant weather. He stated that for some three or four years past, in portions of [illegible] of cities has been saved for purposes of [illegible]. By a process it was reduced to an [illegible] ... One instance is related in which 84 men were employed to remove this matter, after it had been [illegible] upon the ground. Of the 84 persons so employed [illegible] were taken sick, and 60 of the 84 died. From this one fact we may be able to imagine something of the poison [illegible] in the sewage of a city. To properly drain the city will require a considerable expenditure of money; [illegible] it not be better to expend that money and obtain a little longer lease of life for ourselves and save [illegible] from the grave than to take the chances by [illegible] to the money, of going feet foremost across the river? The report, and elaborate maps accompanying it were received, and the report placed on file.

The [illegible] were authorized in payment of claims against the city as follows: Well Brothers rent of Council room for January, $40; C. H. Myers street lamps and repairs, $60.20; Multnomah county, costs in suit of City vs. J. H. Egan, $101.95; C. W. Burrage, services as City Surveyor, January and February, $326; P. Sanders and J. B. Ward, services as policemen, month of February, $100 each; Gustave Semmens, work at No. 1 House, $15; W. Hutchinson, sidewalks on Washington street, $380; John Stevens, dredger tender, month of February, $40.

[illegible] the Council adjourned.

[illegible] CASE—PLEA OF GUILTY.—Yesterday in the [illegible] Court, before Judge Shattuck, Lambert was arraigned on a charge of larceny, in appropriating the sum of [illegible] in gold coin, belonging to Mr. Reeves, who was [illegible] at the house of Lambert, and into whose possession the money was placed for safe keeping. Lambert [illegible] guilty to the charge, and will receive his sentence on Friday morning. There has been a good deal of interest [illegible] to this case. It will be remembered Lambert was the keeper of a hotel across the river called the [illegible] Hotel. This Mr. Reeves, an old man from [illegible], called and put up at the hotel depositing with Lambert for safe keeping, and leaving in the [illegible] team of horses. He was to leave for California, [illegible] nights previous to his departure the hotel, barn, [illegible] and adjoining buildings were destroyed [illegible]. The money was not to be found after the fire, [illegible] and his wife were arrested on a charge [illegible] ... Subsequently Mrs. L. was discharged, and her [illegible] exonerated. Now Lambert confesses to [illegible] of the money. Suspicion also rests upon his [illegible] who set the buildings on fire, as it was [illegible] the work of an incendiary. Of this, however, [illegible] to say, as Lambert proposes to make a [illegible] in writing to the Court before he receives his [illegible].

[illegible]—We are informed that a company [illegible] organized at the Dalles who intend putting [illegible] heavy freight teams on the portage from [illegible] to Pen d'Oreille Lake, at once, and increase [illegible] as required. They intend to transport goods [illegible] low freight. The first teams will start from [illegible] by March 10th. Thus we see another very [illegible] link in the communication with Montana supplies. We have over looked upon White Bluffs as the [illegible] point in this great trade, and we have no doubt [illegible] relying upon the merits of the route above [illegible] to prosper, and may become in time the [illegible] of the Columbia. Already a hotel and several [illegible] are established there. The pioneers of the [illegible] Booth & Nevison, have already purchased [illegible] extensive stock of goods for that market, in expectation of the demand likely to grow out of direct communication with Montana, and the Big Bend mines of [illegible] Columbia, and we see yesterday that the order [illegible] in the line of groceries, etc. The town is [illegible] surveyed, now that its permanency is [illegible] a matter of doubt, and ere long the few buildings [illegible] surrounded by others, making a place of [illegible] dimensions.

[illegible] THIEVES IN THE VALLEY.—Mr. A. B. Sturgis, [illegible] miles south of Oregon City, had a horse stolen from his stable on the night of February 22d and [illegible] ... it seems that there is an organized band of thieves in the valley. Mr. Sturgis followed the thief who took his horse, and both the horse and thief were seen in the vicinity of Silverton, but he was unable to keep track of them, and has so far been unable to regain [illegible] of his animal. His suspicions rest upon a man about five feet ten inches in height, full face about twenty-six years of age, who goes by the fictitious names of Shuma or Minor. The horse was seen by persons at Silverton on the morning of the 23d, where the thief applied for a bridle, at a very early hour. On the Saturday following he was seen in another section, riding a black white-faced horse, and leading the one lost by Mr. Sturgis, which is described in another column. A reward is offered by Mr. Sturgis for the horse or thief, or both.

VISIT FROM SALEM.—The steamers from the upper Willamette [illegible] day came down to the wharves loaded with [illegible]. We think two hundred persons must have [illegible] from Salem. The fare is so cheap that people cannot refuse to ride, and the result is that the companies make better pay than when running at old figures. Fares [illegible] in this country generally as [illegible] prevent people from traveling, and now that it is reduced on the Willamette, people pass to and fro between places, renew old acquaintances, form new acquaintances and transact more [illegible] than formerly by half. Residents of places but a few miles apart soon almost to forget that such places exist, but under favorable circumstances they freely and often mingle together.

[illegible]—U. H. Hicks, Esq., late of the Review at [illegible], gave us a call yesterday. He has renewed his [illegible] to the "Democracy" and says he finds the Copperheads leaving their holes all through the country. [illegible] his politics we consider Mr. Hicks much of a [illegible], but his education is of that class that makes [illegible] appear insane on account of his associations. We are always sorry to see a good man lose himself either through the vices of dissipation or love of "Democracy." [illegible] since the friends of Hicks had a hope of his recovery, but the late veto has caused a relapse.

[illegible] STEAMER.—To-day the O. S. N. Company dispatch the steamer Julia for the Cascades, under command of Capt. Smith, with a cargo of 700 sheep, 130 head of cattle, and about 60 horses. The master of the Julia [illegible] Capt. Smith has been in the steamboat business [illegible] on the Columbia river, and has been a very efficient officer on board steamers under Capt. John Wolfe. [illegible] glad to see him promoted.

[illegible] COURT.—J. J. HOFFMAN, J.—Feb. 28th. [illegible] John Rich has turned up trump again. His appearance in Court yesterday was on account of a [illegible] Capitol, where he attempted to play the part of "Chief." In consequence of a lack about [illegible] he was forwarded to the city jail [illegible] ... commitment [illegible] clothing, which [illegible] ... this case however [illegible] ... sent that he ha[illegible].

WILLAMETTE THEATRE.—Notwithstanding the severity of the storm last evening [illegible] the Theatre and [illegible] ... A fine bill is offered [illegible] ... evening. The Female [illegible] will be sung by Mrs. Phelps.

SADDLES AND HARNESS.—Mr. J. H. Thwing, 140 Front street, now closing out his stock of saddlery gives that portion of the public who desire to purchase for their own use, some inducement to call upon him. He offers about fifteen sets of harness at cost, besides saddles, bridles, etc., at reduced rates. He can fit a man out or a horse just as well, and satisfy the most particular purchaser.

WALLA WALLIANS IN TOWN.—There is quite a number of our friends from the pleasant little burg of Walla Walla sojourning in Portland at this time. Among those book[ed] at Arrigoni's are Geo. [illegible] Thomas, Mayor of Walla Walla, Dan. Welch, J. D. [illegible] and others. [illegible] merchants of that city are also here making large purchases of goods for that market.

CAYUSE HORSES.—A large herd of cayuses arrived in the city yesterday from the valley which are being taken to various points on the Columbia for sale, and use in pack trains.

"ALEX."—Your letter is published to-day. Will be glad to hear from you often.

THE MONTANA.—Our dispatch to-day state that the [illegible] did not leave San Francisco until the 25th.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

DATES TO FEBRUARY 27.

Senator Sherman's Views.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—Mr. [illegible] in the Senate yesterday spoke in favor of the President's re[illegible] ... [illegible] ... that the President's [illegible] ... [illegible] ... Southern members [illegible] may be admitted to Congress [illegible] ... [illegible] ... in the rebellion [illegible] ... [illegible] ... Congress practically [illegible] ... the speech made by the President on the 22d [illegible] ... [illegible] ... unwilling to support that [illegible] ... [illegible] ... that of a President of the United States [illegible].

Mr. Sherman said the position [illegible] ... [illegible] ... party that elected him [illegible] ... [illegible] ... [illegible] ... graceful than for us by our division to surrender [illegible] ... who were the worst enemies of [illegible] country. He who contributes in any way to this to all deserve execration by true unionmen. [illegible] way by throwing up to the President new issues in which the well known principles of his [illegible] do not agree with the judgment of his political associations. Will you by new issues upon which you know you have not the views of the people jeopardize the rights which you can by all of the united party secure to the freedmen. We know the President cannot and will never agree with us upon the issues of universal suffrage and dead States. The curse of God the maledictions of millions of our people and the tears and blood of our now made free blacks will in my judgment rest upon those who are determined to destroy the unity of those who have ever striven for harmony with the President, and I will each other. If ever the time shall come when I can no longer combine in the President's love [illegible] to the principles upon which he was elected, I will bid farewell to Andrew Johnson with unaffected sorrow. No words from me shall drive him into political fellowship with those who, when he was one of the moral heroes of the war, denounced him, spit upon him and despitefully used him."

At the conclusion of Mr. Sherman's speech Mr. Trumbull said he had heard there were men in Congress in favor of keeping the Southern States out indefinitely. He had never met any man in either House not anxious to see those members admitted at the earliest possible time consistent with safety.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The Tribune of this city in its morning issue says: While the present issue is pending between the President and Congress we are sure we convey the view of nearly all the loyal men when we express the hope that all the federal office holders from the Cabinet Ministers down to the country postmaster will as far as possible keep aloof from the controversy. They will thereby afford no pretext for the guillotine, and will avoid surrendering the comfortable places to the hungry copperheads." A Washington special dispatch says quite a number of clerks have been summarily dismissed for uttering expressions disrespectful to the President.

Comments of the Union Press.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—The following are the expressions of the leading papers on the President's embroglio. The Chicago Republican says the President may dismiss his fears he has passed the point of danger, the only men capable of such deeds (as assassination) he can number hereafter among his friends. The Detroit Tribune (radical) says the President seeks a quarrel and makes the point of dissent so broad that only baseness and treachery can bridge over the chasm. The President turns his back upon the men who made him and throws himself into the arms of the South—where he came from. There is no doubting he means worse than he says. We are sold out dirt cheap, and the brief of ominous power still remonstrates every corner of rebeldom. Will Congress yield in this emergency? We conjure that body to stand firm. It is now the only realization of the country, and it may become its solemn duty to impeach the President. The Cincinnati Gazette says however the national cause may be retarded by imperative agencies, it has virtue itself which will carry it forward, and the patriotic people who have sustained it through all its perils and sacrifices have still the same determination to complete the work. The Utica Herald says the President has disappointed the loyal sentiment of the country. From every man whose hands are red with blood, from every rebel—every sympathizer with the rebellion will go up jubilations.

The Pittsburg Commercial says: If the President has a sincere friend and that friend is himself sound in head and heart, he will not fail without loss of time and without concealment to tell him plainly that pers[ev]erance in the path he has taken must lead to fatal estrangement. The President is not wise. No friend of his can lay claim to sagacity or wisdom, if he supposes that Congress does not represent the fixed and unalterable will of the people.

The Toledo Blade says: The President's speech will cost him hundreds of thousands of friends and supporters in the Union party. It did not become the Chief Magistrate to stoop to the low-flung rant of a stump orator. It was the time and manner of the speech, and the character of the men to whom it was made, that excite the most painful apprehensions.

The St. Louis Democrat says: Missouri has taken position through the Legislature resolutely to stand by Congress. Every concession made to the reactionary party at this time is conciliatory to the element which threatens destruction. Congress and the country may be sure that the radicals of Missouri will maintain the stand they have taken in this crisis, instead of being weakened and deterred by the blow which they in common with the radicals. Unionists of the country have received from a hand they trusted. They are to-day both numerously and morally, stronger than ever before. This proposition they will make good at the polls.

The Richmond Whig says: The unreserved candor and courage displayed [illegible] the President proclaim him of the Andrew Jackson stamp and will attract to him the confidence and support of the mass of the people. What will be its effect upon the parties and party actions in Congress will presently be shown. Speculations on this subject are needless and unstable and the fact itself will soon be developed.

The Sandusky Register says: One conclusion is inevitable. Trouble lies ahead of Mr. Johnson and he has not many steps to take before descending to introduce Southern members to Congress by military power, and we know that he is urged to this course by many of his best and intimate associations. In these critical times and after reading the President's words we should be prepared.

Union Meeting at Chicago.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27.—A mass meeting was held here last evening and speeches made by Lieutenant Governor [illegible], Ex-Governor Hoffman, [illegible] Larned and other distinguished citizens. It was the most intense, enthusiastic and determined expression of public opinion ever manifested in Chicago. The following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, We warn the President that while Ex[illegible] ... been successful among people of the Latin race they have always [illegible] ... ure and sometimes decapitation among the Anglo-Saxons.

Resolved, The reconstruction of the Rebel States can never be accomplished by Executive [illegible] ... ing of the law making department of the Government. Let Congress do its whole duty fearlessly, conscientiously and patriotically, and the loyal masses who have saved the Union will abundantly sustain them.

A grand indignation meeting was held the same evening which resolved that the House of Representatives take measures at once to cause the impeachment of the President. They also resolve that Congress continue in session until March [illegible] ... in order that if any coup d'etat be intended [illegible] to prevent the abuse of the immense patronage in behalf of the new confederate party.

Fire at Philadelphia—Accident to Gen Grant.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. [illegible].—A fire last evening on Third street above [illegible] destroyed Roberts hardware store and other property. Total loss $700,000.

Gen. Grant returned last night from Washington. During his stay here he has been presented with a purse of $100,000. The prominent subscribers were W. T. Stewart, W. B. Astor, Vanderbilt, etc. Three thousand dollars of the amount is to discharge the mortgage on his Washington residence and the balance to be invested in 5-20s. The money was presented without ceremony. Gen. Grant narrowly escaped a fatal accident yesterday. While examining a newly invented rifle it accidentally discharged a part of the contents entering his left hand, inflicting a painful wound.

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 26.—Last night Colonel Henry C. Wharton, of the Engineer Corps, Lieut. [illegible] Ward of the First Cavalry, and Mr. [illegible] were standing on the sidewalk on Bush street adjoining the Occidental Hotel when a stranger in passing the group called Wharton [illegible] raised his cane to strike the stranger but the blow was warded off by Ross. Wharton instantly drew a revolver when one of its barrels was accidentally discharged, the ball taking effect in the [illegible] of Lieut. Ward. The ball passed downward and lodged in the groin. The patient is still alive but from the character of the wound the physicians have but little hope of a favorable result.

An old man named John Corney committed suicide in a saloon on Dupont street on Saturday by drinking poison in a glass of beer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Sailed—On the 26th bark [illegible], Puget Sound; bark [illegible], Puget Sound; schooner [illegible], Coos Bay. Sailed on the [illegible]—Bark Oakland, Puget Sound; bark [illegible], schooner [illegible]. Sailed on the [illegible]th brig [illegible], Humboldt.

Feb. 28—Steamer Del Norte from Crescent City; ship Fleet [illegible], 158 days from New York; ship Kattie, 140 days from New York.

The following dispatch has been received:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—D. W. Cheesman: Imported matches sold in broken or unbroken packages must be stamped. Further instructions by mail. (Signed) B. P. WHITMAN,
Deputy Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

The safe in the Russ House was robbed some time last night of a number of deposits of value in aggregate from $3,000 to $6,000. No clue has been obtained of the money or the robbers but the detectives have a number of the servants under examination with the hope of developing some facts which will clear up the mystery.

Donell McDonald, who is supposed to be in reality William Welles, the murderer who killed four men in Sacramento a few years ago, arrived in town last night by the Sierra Nevada and is now confined in the county jail en route for Sacramento. Several people have recognized him as the murderer Welles, while others who know Welles have serious doubts of his identity.

Emma F. Jackson has commenced suit for a divorce from her husband Andrew Jackson. The plaintiff is a young white girl 13 years of age and the defendant is a negro nearly 60 years of age. The mother of the plaintiff procured a license for their marriage by making false representations to the clerk. After the marriage the girl ran away from her husband and was taken care of by some friends. The negro then endeavored to obtain possession of her through a writ of habeas corpus, when the case came before Judge Cowles who placed her in charge of proper guardians, and the suit has been commenced at their instigation.

The California State Telegraph Company have commenced suit to enjoin the U. S. Pacific Telegraph Company from doing business between the cities of San Francisco, San Jose, Stockton and Sacramento, the State telegraph line having been built under a charter from the legislature granting them the exclusive right to do business between these points for a term of fifteen years from 1854.

The Democrats held a large meeting at Platt's Hall last evening and speeches were made by Weller, Washington, Underwood, Axtell, Henley and others. A series of resolutions endorsing the action of President Johnson were adopted.

Mining stocks were active to-day with a general improvement in prices. Savage advanced to $945, Hale and Norcross to $1,200, closing at $1,150. In the absence of late gold dispatches Legal Tenders are a little dull at 72¾ buying and 72¼ selling prices.

Merchandise Market.—Butter—Eastern firm, fresh California in firkins, 40 cents. Nails—500 kegs Boonton, or Franklin $7 00. Petroleum—7,000 gals from second hands brought $1 15. Whiskey—25 bbls of Miller's Old Bourbon sold at $1 00.

Produce Market.—Flour—we quote, half and quarter sacks ⅌ bbl $5 00@$6 50, superfine, half sacks $6 50@$6 75, quarter sacks $6 50@$7 00, extra half sacks $6 50@$7 00, quarter sacks $6 75@$7 25. Wheat—inactive and the prices remain generally largely nominal, $2 10 for No. 2, $1 20 for strictly private. A lot of 500 sacks sold on private terms. Barley—There is nothing of moment doing. The quotations are nominal at $1@1 05, for feed, $1 10 ⅌ 100 lbs. Oats—A lot of 600 sks, coast, sold private at $2. We quote the range at $2 10@2 20 ⅌ 100 lbs. Potatoes—Sales reach 4,000 sks Humboldt at $1 15; 400 do, Pigeon Point, $1 25 ⅌ 100 lbs.

To obtain any of these the applicant must call for advertised letters, give the date of this list, and pay one cent for advertising.
If not called for within one month they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office.
Free delivery of letters by carriers at the residences of owners, may be secured by observing the following rules:
1. Direct letters plainly to the street and number as well as to the post office and State.
2. Head letters with the writer's post office and State, street and number, sign them plainly with full name, and request that answers be sent accordingly.
3. Letters to strangers or transient visitors in a town or city, whose special address may be unknown, should be marked, in the lower left hand corner, with the word "Transient."
4. Place the postage stamp on the upper right hand corner, and leave space between the stamp and direction for post-marking without interfering with the writing.
N. B.—A request for the return of a letter to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days or less, written or printed with the writer's name, post-office, and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with at the usual prepaid rate of postage, payable when the letter is delivered to the writer.—Sec. 28, Law, 1863.

Notice.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE COMMON Council of the city of Portland propose to improve First street in said city between the centre of Vine street and the north line of Madison street, excepting that portion of said street crossed by Washington street, by grading and paving with the Nicolson Pavement, excepting a portion of six intersections now occupied by plank cistern covers, said portions at the intersections to be improved by placing timbers across the cisterns with three inch plank placed on their edge, the same separated by slips of plank, with gravel and coal tar used similar as on the Nicolson Pavement, with curbing on said street of six-inch plank eighteen inches wide, and sidewalks of two inch plank, said sidewalks and corners of same to be constructed similar to the sidewalks now being constructed on Washington street.
The notice given by this Council on the 1st of February, 1866, of the proposed improvement of said street in manner therein provided is hereby revoked.
Published by order of the Common Council

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD, heals the irritated parts, gives strength to the digestive organs, brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

THE STANDARD AMERICAN BILLIARD TABLES!

AND COMBINATION CUSHIONS

MESSRS. PHELAN & COLLENDER

At the Billiard Congress of 1863, composed of all the first class players of America, it was unanimously resolved that the tables of our manufacture should be used at all matches for the Championship, as the best and only reliable tables.
These Billiard Tables have received the unqualified approval of the best players and most competent judges who have universally pronounced them unequaled for general excellence and durability.
Seven distinct patents for improvements in Billiard Tables have been granted to us by the United States Patent Office, and we have lately obtained a Patent from the French Government, for our improvement in Billiard Cushions.
We employ, in the construction of our tables, a variety of machinery specially made for the purpose, by means of which we are enabled to insure a scientific and mechanical accuracy hitherto unknown in Billiard manufacture.
Having a long experience and thorough knowledge of all the requirements of Billiards, and constantly on hand a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned materials, we are prepared to furnish everything required in the Billiard line with unprecedented dispatch.
The celebrated French Billiard Player, M. Berger, has published the following opinion:
"New York, 1st August, 1861.
"On the eve of leaving the United States I am happy to declare to all amateurs of Billiards that after a tour of eleven months through the principal cities, I have been enabled to judge in a satisfactory manner of the superiority of the Billiard Tables manufactured by Phelan & Collender. The system of manufacturing is so superior, that I am happy to introduce their style of cushion into France. They have united to their manufacture of American Billiard Tables that of the French tables, of remarkable excellence and beauty. For these reasons, I am happy to make this declaration.
"BERGER CLAUDIUS,
Prof. of Billiards, Paris."
Parties ordering from us will find our prices as low as good work can possibly be made for. We sell first-class articles at a fair price, and will not make an inferior article at any price.
Orders by mail carefully and promptly executed. Illustrated Catalogues and Price Lists sent by mail. The "BILLIARD CUE," a Journal published in the interest of Billiards, and containing details of all novelties, a copious record of Billiard news and everything of interest to amateurs of Billiards, sent free on application.
H. E. HUGHES,
730 Montgomery St., San Francisco, Cal., is our only authorized Agent on the Pacific coast, to whom all orders should be addressed.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES

Dr. Gibbon's Dispensary,

617 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established in 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases of years standing, and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences, or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies, see that they are cured and cured before it is too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

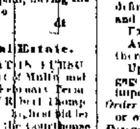

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.
DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument, binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.
Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Doctor Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars, sent in registered letter or through Wells Fargo & Co.
Consultations FREE.

General Remarks.

Revenue stamps may be used indiscriminately for any of the matters or things enumerated in Schedule B, except proprietary and playing card stamps, for which a special use has been provided.
Postage stamps cannot be used in payment of the duty chargeable on instruments.
It is the duty of the maker of an instrument to affix and cancel the stamp required thereon. If he neglects to do so, the party for whose use it is made may stamp it before it is used, but in no case can it be used without a stamp. An instrument subject to stamp duty, but issued and used unstamped, prior to August 1, 1864, may be rendered valid by stamping it as provided in section 163 of the Act of June 30, 1864. If [illegible] case falls under section 158 of said Act, as amended by Act of March 3, 1865.
Suits are commenced in many States by [illegible] than by writ, viz: summons, warrant, [illegible] tion, &c., in which cases, these, as the [illegible] severally require stamps.
The jurat of an affidavit, taken before a justice of the peace, notary public, or other officer duly authorized to take affidavits, is held to be a certificate, and subject to stamp duty of five cents, except when [illegible] legal proceedings.
Certificates of Loan, in which there shall appear any written or printed evidence of an amount of money to be paid on demand, or at a time designated, are subject to stamp duty as "Promissory Notes."
The assignment of a mortgage is subject to the same stamp duty as that imposed upon the original instrument; that is to say, for every sum of five hundred dollars, or any fractional part thereof, of the amount secured by the mortgage at the time of its assignment, there must be affixed a stamp or stamps denoting a duty of [illegible].
When two or more persons join in the execution of an instrument, the stamp to which the instrument is liable under the law may be affixed and cancelled by either of them.
In conveyances of real estate, the law provides that the stamp affixed must answer to the value of the estate or interest conveyed.
No stamp is required on any warrant of attorney accompanying a bond or note when such bond or note has affixed thereto the stamp or stamps [illegible] required; and whenever any bond or note is secured by mortgage, but one stamp duty is required [illegible] such stamp duty being the highest rate [illegible] instruments, or either of them. In [illegible] memorandum of the value or denomination [illegible] affixed should be made upon the margin [illegible] knowledgment of the instrument which [illegible].

THAT OLD GREENBACK!

I am still obliged to accept of Legal Tender Notes at Par (and have been since Dec. 17, 1862, for the rent of my Hand[illegible] Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets. I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that

JACOB MAYER

Leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the [illegible] were Coin. Since the date above stated I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the making less than two fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantages of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such tenants in such costly buildings as the one referred to above.
